Explanatory.

This Manual has been prepared for the use and information of the members of this Church and Congregation, in accordance with the official action of the Session. It is the first of a series, which it is proposed to issue at intervals. While great care has been taken to secure accuracy, it is felt that errors will, almost necessarily, be discovered; and that a subsequent issue may be more perfect, it is requested that any one detecting mistakes will bring it to the attention of the Pastor.

All persons connected with our Church are earnestly invited to read carefully the contents of this Manual. It is hoped that it will make us all more intelligent concerning our Church, its work, and its needs; that it will help to stimulate us to greater exertion in Christian work in our Church; that every one of us may be impressed with the thought that there is a place of usefulness which he can fill, and that each one will diligently strive to bear his full share of all the burdens and responsibilities of our Church—and thus make our future bright with God-given success. If it does this it will be considered worth all the thought, time, labor, and money that have been expended upon it.

All persons into whose hands this Manual may fall, who have no regular place of worship, are requested to study our Church as it appears upon these pages, and consider the "Invitation to Strangers," which is No. 15 of the Pastor's Suggestions (page 12).

Copies of this Manual may be had, without charge, on application to the Pastor or Elders. The cost of its publication has been provided for through the kindness of a friend of the Church.

I. P. M.

723 S. 20th St., Philadelphia, April 9, 1885.

The Pastor's Suggestions.

I. PASTORAL SERVICES.—The Pastor is at your service always, for all the purposes of the Pastorate. While his chief work is to preach and teach the Gospel, he is always glad to welcome to his home, at any time, any persons who desire to talk with him about the great concerns of the immortal soul, or who call to consult with him about the affairs of the Church, or anything else that pertains to the progress of Christ's Kingdom.

II. VISITING.—It is the Pastor's purpose to visit at their homes, each family of the Church and every member of the Congregation and Sabbath School, just as often as he can consistently with his other duties. No rule can be established in a Church with a large membership except to be always ready to visit any family or individual when necessary. The Pastor expects that all cases of sickness and sorrow and special religious needs will be at once reported to him, and he will regard it a sacred privilege to answer any and every such call that may be made upon his time and care. Never take it for granted that the Pastor is acquainted with your special needs. When a visit for any reason is desired, and especially if you think he can be helpful to you under any special circumstances, the Pastor will regard it as a favor if you notify him of the fact. When this is done, it is to be hoped that all proper allowance will be made for seeming neglect in pastoral visitation.

III. SICKNESS.—The Pastor is always ready and willing to visit the sick, and will gladly put himself to any inconvenience to serve them. As he cannot always know who are sick or when his presence would be desirable, he most earnestly requests that, whenever the circumstances of any person or any family connected with the congregation are such as call for special attention, he may be immediately informed of the fact. It often happens when people are sick, that they are so sick as to be unable to see even the Pastor; and sometimes there is such a state of confusion in the affairs of the family that it is very inconvenient for them to have the Pastor call. In view of these things, the Pastor ought not to be expected to call, where there is sickness or trouble, unless he is asked to do so, even if he knows that such sickness or trouble exist. At any rate, the Pastor ought not to be censured if he does not call, unless the afflicted have specially sent for him.

IV. FUNERALS.—If possible, consult the Pastor before definite arrangements are made as to the day and hour for the funeral services. This will enable him to so adjust other engagements as to comply with the wishes of the friends of the deceased. Funerals should, in all ordinary cases, be in the latter part of the day, and not on the Lord's Day. The regular duties of the Sabbath are sufficient for the strength of the Pastor.

V. BAPTISM.—All Christian parents should present their children to the Lord in Baptism, as soon as convenient after they are born. This ordinance should be administered in the presence of the congregation, and not in private, except in cases of sickness. Parents intending to present their children for Baptism should always write, with care, the child's name in full, and date of birth, together with the names of the father and mother in full, upon a slip of paper, and hand the same to the Pastor, to be recorded in the Church Register.

VI. MARRIAGE.—When persons intending to be married have set the day for the happy event, if they desire the services of the Pastor, they should notify him as soon as convenient, so that he may avoid making other engagements which may conflict with their plans. The Pastor always keeps such secrets.

VII. PUBLIC WORSHIP.—If Christians are to let their lights shine in Sabbath observance, they must engage in the public exercises of the Sanctuary; they must join in public prayer and praise with the people of God. Let it not be said of us that we are neglecting the ordinances of God's house. Let each one say with Joshua, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Let the habit of regular attendance upon the services of the Sanctuary be a controlling power in the life of our Church. It is a great pleasure for the Pastor to bear record to the continued faithfulness of our people in this direction. Twice each Sabbath, in the evening as well as the morning, it is his happy privilege to preach to a full house. Let this good attendance continue, and let the boys and girls be gathered in with the fathers and mothers, to the congregation of Sabbath worshippers—"both young men and maidens; old men and children: let them praise the name of the Lord." Come promptly at the time appointed for beginning the service, and thus you will not disturb others in their worship. In God's house be reverent and attentive. Be eager to hear as the Word is read, and let the house be stillest when God speaks. Good hearing has a wonderful effect on the preaching. Sing with the spirit. Practice what is preached.

VIII. THE SABBATH SCHOOL.—The Sabbath School is the most important department of our Church-work. In it we have the most easily reached and the most impressible part of every congregation. The Sabbath School is an organized power which, properly utilized, is capable of immense possibilities of good to the cause of Christ and to the Church. The great object of the Sabbath School should be Bible study for Christian growth, for immediate religious impressions and constant Christian culture. The teacher's object should be to lead the soul to Christ. Parents should send their children regularly and on time, and assist them in the study of their lessons. They should give the officers and teachers their prayers and assistance. The essential qualities of a good teacher are love of the work, carefulness and thoroughness of preparation, and punctuality of attendance. The Pastor would most lovingly press the claims of the Sabbath School of our Church upon the attention of every member, as the work not of the few now engaged in it, but as a work in which every member of our Church has a share and common interest; and thus aid in making this field of labor rich in abundant fruit for the Kingdom of our Lord.

IX. THE WEEKLY MEETINGS.—Make the Wednesday Evening Lecture and the Friday Evening Congregational Prayer Meeting "a previous engagement," even with your best friend. Such meetings have been a power for good that eternity only can measure. Within them brotherly love has been fostered, a strong working faith developed, and souls born into the fold of the Lord Jesus. Let every member feel it a duty and a privilege to regularly attend these services. Not one of us can afford to lose their influence. Invite others to come with you and try to interest them in the services. Come with the spirit of devotion, of sympathy, and of love; join heartily in the singing; expect to give and receive some good; and these weekly meetings will be the golden hours of the week.

X. HOME RELIGION.—The Church services can never take the place of home training and influence. Our Church life will be regulated and directed very much by the spirit that controls the family. The home ought to be the most hallowed spot on earth to the child. The cords of holy love thrown around him there are almost sure to draw him into the Church, and lead him to Heaven. Godly homes are the nurseries of the Church. The memories of fireside devotions are often among the dearest of life. All home conversations about religion and the Church should lead the little children to feel that it is their privilege to love and serve the Lord, just as they do their father and mother, and enroll themselves early among the followers of Christ, by joining his Church, and obey his dying command: "This do in remembrance of me." Let the lambs be gathered into the fold before they become hardened in sin, and stray away from holy influences; and let the Christian home be the place where their feet are directed aright.

XI. BRINGING CHILDREN TO CHURCH.—God has ordained that his visible Church shall be built up, not of isolated individuals, but of families. Every child of believing parents is by its birth a citizen of God's Kingdom and an heir of its privileges, subject to the condition of subsequent personal faith. Attendance at the Church services ought to be by families. The Pastor would urge all parents to bring their children to Church. If they do not, they can not expect them to love the Church as they grow up, for they are not training them in that direction. Unless the children are brought regularly to the public services of God's House, the Church, humanly speaking, has little or no future before it. The present generation of Church goers will soon be gone, and the coming generation, being untrained in the ways of their parents, will care nothing for the prosperity and perpetuity of the Church. Parents should not allow their children to grow up without that educational training in spiritual truth which a regular attendance upon the services of the Church cannot fail to give, and without that restraining influence which the preaching of God's Word wraps around weak human nature. Parents who do not bring their children to the Church services, are neglecting a duty which is very serious in its consequences, not only upon their children, but upon themselves; for they are sowing seed which, if the parents themselves are Christians, must, some day, bring a harvest in tears of sorrow and bitterness. The Pastor then would sincerely urge that parents, for their own sakes, for their children's sakes, and for the sake of the Church, should insist upon their children coming with them regularly to the House of God. They ought to bring their children to Church so early in life that, in after years, they would not be able to tell when they began to attend religious services. In manhood and womanhood, they will thank and bless their parents for such a training.

XII. CHURCH MEMBERSHIP.—Membership in the Presbyterian Church is based, not on the acceptance of a creed, but upon profession of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. This faith includes penitence for sin and obedience to the commandments. Uniting with the Church is enrolling ourselves among the followers of Christ. The Church is a school of Christ, and is helpful to the Christian life. Every member is expected to study the Scriptures and "to grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." The life of every member of the Church should be consistent with the profession he has made. His conduct should in no respect give the lie to his profession. In uniting with the Church, he professes to seek and love the truth; to make Christ his Teacher and Example; to be led by the Spirit of God; to study and promote the peace and prosperity of the Church; to be jealous of the reputation of the Church and to submit himself to the laws, government, and discipline of the Church. To do all this will require much prayer, watchfulness, and diligence. While no man is perfect, and while sanctification is a work of life, yet the Church expects to find every one of its members earnestly striving to reach this perfection. He should practice much self-denial; he should be regular in observing the ordinances of the Church; he should be faithful in discharging the duties involved in his relation to the Church; he should be active in Church-work—attending all the services and persuading others to attend; he should help in all the prayer, social, and business meetings of the Church; and he should contribute regularly and freely, as God hath prospered him, not only to the current expenses of our own Church, but to all departments of its benevolent work.

XIII. CHURCH CERTIFICATES.—It is "walking disorderly" not to have personal responsibility in and to some particular Church. Our members are affectionately urged, when their business and family circumstances call them to leave our community, to apply without delay, to the Pastor or any member of the Session, for their certificates of dismission and recommendation, and also to present them promptly to the Church to which they are commended, remembering that their relation to us does not cease until they are received by such Church. Members of other Churches who worship with us, even though for a brief or indefinite time, are cordially invited to present their certificates, and come into full communion with us while their residence is here. It is little trouble, it costs nothing, it is orderly, it is courteous. Living within the bounds of one Church, and having a membership in another, is not helpful to spiritual life. When for good reasons it is impracticable to transfer their relationship, our non-resident members are requested to report to the Session at least once a year.

XIV. HOSPITALITY.—It is the duty of every Church-member to be interested in the welfare of every other, and especially in the same congregation. Without brotherly love no Church can prosper; and, without acquaintance, love must be very slight. After every Church meeting there ought to be cordial greetings between those who are present. It is the injunction of Paul: "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith." Always welcome the stranger that may come within our gate. No member of the congregation should allow strangers to leave the house, without speaking to them, and extending an invitation to return and share his pew. "Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another; love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous."—I Peter, 3: 8.

XV. INVITATION TO STRANGERS.—All persons who have no regular place of worship, are invited to come and cast in their lot with us. We will make you welcome, and do you good. If you accept our invitation to be one with us in our worship, we invite you to make yourself known to the Pastor as such, by waiting to speak to him at the close of any service; or by writing to him, giving your name and address, and he will call to see you; or by visiting him at his home. This invitation is extended to all, alike to rich and poor, learned and unlearned, known and unknown.

XVI. RELIGIOUS NEWSPAPERS.—It is desirable that there should be a good religious newspaper in every family of our Church. The following are good Presbyterian papers: The Presbyterian and The Presbyterian Journal, of Philadelphia; The New York Observer and The Evangelist, of New York City; The Presbyterian Observer, of Baltimore; The Presbyterian Banner, of Pittsburg; The Herald and Presbyterian, of Cincinnati; The Interior, of Chicago.

XVII. YOUNG PEOPLE.—The hope of the Church and the world is in the young people. The future of our own Church depends very largely upon those who have the fire of youth to help in active Christian work. Most people who have passed middle life are set in their ways; and, whether their ways are right or wrong, they are not easily moved. It is very difficult to enlist in active Christian work those people who have come into the Church late in life, and especially those who have been in the Church for years, and who have done little or nothing for the cause of Christ and the spiritual good of others. The young people, under the direction of a sympathizing and prudent leader, can do more efficient service in matters pertaining to the active work and prosperity of our Church than the aged. Young men can greatly aid the Pastor in many ways, and especially by loyalty to the Church, and by interesting other young men in the services and the work of our Church. Young ladies can do even more by a similar loyalty, by taking a decided stand for our Church, by giving it as a whole the benefit of their social influence, remembering what Christ has done for their sex. Our young people can in a multitude of ways render telling service for the good of our Church.

XVIII. CHRISTIAN WORK.—It is the Pastor's chief desire to have the hearty co-operation of all, in every work of the Church. Each one can find something to do, and any one desiring special work can find it by consulting the Pastor. Each member ought to work in and for our Church, doing all that he can for its prosperity. Otherwise the greatest success cannot be attained. Be always at Church. Be ever seeking to bring others to Church. Seek out strangers and visit them. Seek for new Sabbath-school scholars. All who can should either teach or enter a class. If you want to teach and there is no class, go out and find a class. Watch for opportunities. Seek to interest strangers in our Church home. Don't wait for formal introductions. Use your personal influence with non-church-goers. Work individually and privately. Be much in prayer for the Church. Be punctual as well as regular at all its services. Be much in secret communion with God. Walk with God. Strive to preach the most eloquent and powerful of all sermons, by simply living for the Saviour. Be careful to fulfill all righteousness between man and man. Covet the best gifts. Pray without ceasing. Be much in fellowship with the saints. Cultivate hospitality. Know and love the members of our Church and do good unto all. When your Pastor makes mistakes, don't go and complain to others, but go and tell Jesus. Pray earnestly for your Pastor, that his ministry may not be in vain, and that he may be the instrument in God's hands of doing much good in our Church.

XIX. HOLINESS.—Holiness is the crowning excellence of which humanity is capable, and for which it was originally designed. The great design of the Gospel is to promote holiness. The principles of holiness are constant fellowship with God and unreserved consecration of the soul and life to God. The members of our Church are affectionately urged to make holiness the great object for which they pray, and after which they strive. Everything we do should be done in the name of Christ, and for His sake, or our Church services will be worth but little. We should be holy on Monday, as well as on Sabbath; in the store as well as at the communion table; in the workshop, as well as in the Church. We are not our own, but Christ's; and we should hold ourselves and all that we have to be not our own, but the property of the King of kings. Thus, we shall make our lives bright with the effulgence of holiness, and benign with the blessing of beneficence; and, at last, we shall receive from Him whose approbation is eternal honor the commendation, "Well done! enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Historical Record.

Church Organized by Presbytery of Philadelphia, Feb. 8, 1853.

Present House of Worship Dedicated, March 10, 1861.

Present Parsonage Erected during 1869 and 1870.

I. Pastors.

REV. JAMES McCASKIE, a native of Ireland, a licentiate of the Presbytery of Strabane, Ireland, and who had served this Church as stated supply from its organization, was ordained and installed its first Pastor, by the Presbytery of Philadelphia, July 12, 1854. He was released from the Pastoral care of the Church June 20, 1864, and ever since has been in the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland.

REV. JOHN MCLEOD, a native of Philadelphia, a graduate of Yale College, and who received his theological education at Yale Seminary, and who was then Secretary of the Board of Domestic Missions of the Presbyterian Church, (new school,) and stated supply of the Presbyterian Church in Reeseville, Chester County, Pa., and formerly Pastor of a Presbyterian Church in Montreal, Canada, was elected the second Pastor of this Church, September 27, 1864, and, having served the Church as Pastor-elect from his election, was duly installed in 1866. On account of failing health he resigned his charge and was released February 4, 1884, and is now living in England.

REV. IRWIN P. MCCURDY, a native of Western Pennsylvania, a graduate of the Pennsylvania State Normal School, at Indiana, Pa., and of Lafayette College, and who received his theological education at Princeton Seminary, and who was then Pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Frederick City, Maryland, and Professor of Greek and Higher Mathematics in Frederick Seminary, was elected the third Pastor of this Church, April 14, 1884; and, after having been released from his charge at Frederick City on the 15th of the following June, he entered upon his Pastorate in this Church on the next day, and was installed on the 29th of the same month.

The Financial System.

It is impossible to carry forward the work of the Church without money, and it is expected that all Christians will give of their means for religious uses, and thus "honor the Lord with their substance." Every member and adherent of our Church should remember that the blessing of God upon ourselves and our Church, is intimately connected with our Christian giving. Every one of us should feel it a privilege to give to the Church "as God hath prospered him." Some fail to give because they cannot afford to contribute as large sums as others. God measures our responsibility by what we have, not by what others do, and our mites will be acceptable if the spirit that offers them is right, and the conscience that directs them is clean. System is necessary to success in any department of action. Business cannot be carried on without system, domestic comfort is impossible without system, and Christ's work will not prosper through lack of system. This applies to the Church in all its departments, not merely its spiritual condition, but also its temporal affairs, and especially its finances. The financial system of our Church is simple and easy for all. It is best for the individual and best for the Church as a whole. It retains all the advantages of the pew rent system, and it gives every one the opportunity to contribute according to God's own method, for the support of the Church. It is hoped that every member of the congregation, rich and poor, old and young, will give our financial plan prayerful consideration, and contribute according to his or her ability, so that every one of us may give something to the cause of Christ. Giving of our substance for the service of God, is an act of worship, and every member should unite in it. The financial plan of this Church is as follows :

I. PEW RENTS.—The pews have fixed valuations, ranging from fourteen to thirty dollars per annum, according to location. Persons not wishing whole pews will be accommodated with either half-pews or sittings. All regular attendants of the Church are expected to rent pews, half-pews, or sittings, in order that the general expenses may be shared by the whole congregation. All of the pews, whether rented or not, are free for the use of strangers who may come to worship with us. Pew rents are payable quarterly, and are collected on the first and third Monday evenings of April, July, October, and January. The Treasurer and Secretary of the Board of Trustees meet for this purpose in the Lecture Room, at 7½ o'clock. The Pew Committee meets at the same time and place. Applications for pews and sittings may be made at any of these meetings, or at any time, personally or by mail, to any of the following members of the Committee: John Woods, 713 South 19th Street; John Patterson, 1937 Pemberton Street; Samuel Sproul, N. E. Cor. 22d and Ellsworth Streets.

II. WEEKLY FREE-WILL OFFERINGS.—This system, recently introduced in this Church, gives all an opportunity to follow the Bible Rule, and obey the Apostolic direction: "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him." This system is based upon the voluntary promise of the givers. An opportunity is given to every one connected with the congregation, to state how much they would be willing to contribute weekly, as a free-will offering to the Lord, with the distinct understanding that all such contributions will be applied to the support of our own Church. These promised amounts can be increased or decreased at the will of the giver, by notifying those having the matter in charge. Envelopes with the names of those thus promising printed on them, are furnished to every contributor. Every Sabbath, at the morning or evening service, an envelope containing the weekly offering should be placed in the basket; and in the case of absence it should be sent through the kindness of a friend, or carried over to the next Sabbath, and deposited along with the amount for that day. A correct record of each separate contribution from each individual is kept in the Treasurer's Book, properly prepared for the purpose. Persons who may be unwilling to promise any definite amount weekly, but who are willing to give, are urged to make their contributions in envelopes. Envelopes with their names printed on them will be furnished all such persons, and a record of their contributions kept. It is important that every one should join in this Scriptural method of giving for the support of the Church. Among the advantages of this system of weekly free-will offerings on the envelope plan, properly worked, the following are very evident:

1. It is based upon the Bible rule, the Apostolic method of finance.
2. It elevates giving to its proper place as a part of divine worship. This laying by in store on the first day of the week, as mentioned by the Apostle, ought to be regarded as an act of worship, as well as the prayer and the praise of the Sanctuary. As each member of the family is expected to unite in the public worship on the Sabbath, and as some by reason of youth are not able to join intelligently in the devotional parts of the exercise, they may, nevertheless, perform a part in the worship of God by their contributions.
3. It trains the members of the congregation into habits of systematic giving. It is by educating the members of our Church, both the old and the young, into this habit of giving systematically, that our success in the future is assured. The steady, regular, and systematic receipt of these small offerings each Sabbath is worth far more to the Church in every way than spasmodic contributions of larger amounts by persons who give or do not give just as the impulse moves them.

4. It is well suited to reach every member. It reaches many who otherwise fail to give anything to the support of the Church. The poorest member can do his or her share as well as the wealthiest, and feel that all are helpers of Christ's work, each "as God hath prospered him." Each gives in the easiest way—day by day, little by little; and thus it secures the small gifts, keeping open the rills which enlarge the stream of Christian giving. It has the correct principle of small gifts from many givers, at regular and frequent intervals.

5. It increases the revenue of the Church. It produces an income which may be relied upon, and enables the Board of Trustees to engage in the temporal work without the fear of a deficiency at the close of every year. If each of the 366 actual communicants of our Church gave, on an average, 25 cents a week, in a year it would amount to $4,758.00. If one-half of our communicants gave, on an average, 25 cents each per week, and the other half only 10 cents, in a year it would amount to $3,330.60. If each communicant gave, on an average, 14 cents a week, which is only two cents a day, in a year it would amount to $2,664.48.

III. OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS.—Collections are taken up at all the regular preaching services of the Church. The contributions on the fourth Sabbath of each month are appropriated to the Poor Fund and the Boards of the Church; the contributions on the second Sabbath of each month are devoted to the Sinking Fund; the contributions on the first Sabbath evening of each month are given to the Sabbath School; and all other contributions are applied to the current expenses of our Church. All of these contributions are in addition to the Weekly Free-Will Offerings, and are to be deposited in the basket along with the envelopes. The contributions on the fourth Sabbath of each month are appropriated in accordance with the following schedule :

January,	-	-	-	Foreign Missions.
February,	-	-	-	Freedmen.
March,	-	-	-	Poor Fund.
April,	-	-	-	Aid for Colleges and Academies.

Benevolent Agencies.

The different BOARDS of the Presbyterian Church are the agencies through which our Evangelistic Work is prosecuted. The Boards of our Church are as follows :

I. HOME MISSIONS.—This Board directs the efforts of our Church to diffuse the Gospel throughout our own country, in sustaining missionaries where they cannot be supported by the people. Its principal field includes the States and Territories west of the Mississippi, and Alaska. "The Sustentation Department" of this Board is to aid our feeble Churches towards self-support.

II. FOREIGN MISSIONS.—This Board is charged with the general direction of the efforts of our Church to spread the Gospel in foreign countries, by sending and sustaining missionaries in these countries. Our Church has mission fields in the following countries: 1. ASIA.—India (3 missions), China (3 missions), Persia (2 missions), Siam and Laos (2 missions), Syria, Japan. 2. AFRICA.—Liberia, Gaboon, etc. 3. EUROPE.—Italy, France, etc., (Papal countries). 4. SOUTH AMERICA.—Brazil, Chili, U. S. of Colombia. 5. NORTH AMERICA.—Mexico (2 missions), Guatemala, United States (among the Chinese and among eleven tribes of Indians).

III. EDUCATION.—This Board has the general superintendence of the work of our Church in furnishing a pious, educated, and efficient ministry. It aids candidates for the ministry who need pecuniary assistance in their collegiate and theological studies. About two-thirds of our candidates for the ministry are thus aided.

IV. PUBLICATION.—This Board has the general oversight of our Church Literature, including the publication of standard works, tracts, library books, lesson papers, etc., principally for our Sabbath Schools. Contributions made to this Board are not used for its business, but go exclusively to its Missionary Department, which has charge of our Church work in sustaining colporteurs, chiefly west of the Mississippi, in organizing through them new Sabbath Schools in destitute places, and strengthening existing ones, and in making grants of the Board's publications, etc.

V. CHURCH ERECTION.—This Board has charge of the Fund by which feeble congregations are assisted in the erection of Church buildings. The work of this Board goes hand in hand with that of Home Missions.

VI. MINISTERIAL RELIEF.—This Board has charge of the Fund for the aid of ministers disabled by age or disease, and the widows and orphans of deceased ministers. It also has charge of the Presbyterian Ministers' House, at Perth Amboy, N. J.

VII. FREEDMEN.—This Board has the general superintendence of the work of our Church among the Freedmen of the South, in supplying them with ministers and teachers, and in endowing institutions by which they may be furnished with well-trained preachers and teachers of their own race.

VIII. AID FOR COLLEGES AND ACADEMIES.—This Board has in charge the interests of higher education as connected with our Church. Contributions made to this Board are devoted either to the current expenses of struggling colleges and academies, or to their permanent endowment. Its principal field is in the West.

Presbyterian Polity.

I. The Church.

[Form of Government, Book I., Chapter 2.]

I. JESUS CHRIST, who is now exalted far above all principality and power, hath erected in this world, a kingdom, which is his Church.

II. The Universal Church consists of all those persons, in every nation, together with their children, who make profession of the holy religion of Christ, and of submission to his laws.

III. As this immense multitude cannot meet together in one place, to hold communion, or to worship God, it is reasonable, and warranted by Scripture example, that they should be divided into many particular Churches.

IV. A particular Church consists of a number of professing Christians, with their offspring, voluntarily associated together, for divine worship and godly living, agreeably to the Holy Scriptures; and submitting to a certain form of government.

II. The Presbyterian Church.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH is so called because it is governed by Presbyters. These officers are elected by the people, and they are invested with the watch and care and government of the Church. Presbyters are of two classes: 1. Ruling Elders, those who rule. 2. Ministers, those who both rule and teach. Deacons constitute another class of officers in the Church, according to our system. They are chosen like Elders, with similar requirements, and have charge of the poor and the benevolent funds for their use. Presbyters exercise their office through the following judicatories:

I. THE SESSION.—“The Church Session consists of the pastor, or pastors, and ruling elders, of a particular congregation.”

Duties—To receive into the Church those whom upon examination it finds to give credible evidence of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ; to inquire into the Christian conduct of the members of the Church; to admonish or rebuke, to suspend or expel, those who are found to deserve the censure of the Church; and to take loving and watchful heed “to all the flock over which the Holy Ghost hath made them overseers.”

II. THE PRESBYTERY.—“A Presbytery consists of all the ministers, in number not less than five, and one ruling elder from each congregation, within a certain district.”

Duties—To review and control all the Church sessions within its bounds; to see that pastors are faithful in the discharge of their duties; to examine and license and ordain candidates for the ministry; to install, remove, and discipline ministers; “and in general to order whatever pertains to the spiritual welfare of the Churches under their care.”

The Presbytery of Philadelphia is the Presbytery which organized the Southwestern Presbyterian Church and with which it is now connected. It is the oldest Presbytery in America, and includes all the Presbyterian Churches in Philadelphia “south of the centre of Market Street, and between the Delaware River and the western line of the city.” The other Presbyterian Churches in Philadelphia are connected with the Presbyteries of Philadelphia Central and Philadelphia North. One-fifth of the entire population of Philadelphia is Presbyterian, and one to every twenty of the population is a Presbyterian communicant. Presbyterians are the strongest religious denomination in the city and Philadelphia is the largest Presbyterian city in the United States, and probably in the world. The Presbytery of Philadelphia has 61 ministers, 31 churches, 138 elders, 64 deacons, about 12,000 communicants and 14,000 Sabbath School scholars. Its stated meetings are held in the Assembly Room of the Presbyterian Board of Publication, 1334 Chestnut Street, at 3 P. M., on the first Monday of each month, except July and August. Rev. Arthur T. Pierson, D.D., is Moderator, and Rev. Willard M. Rice, D.D., is Stated Clerk.

III. THE SYNOD.—“A Synod consists of all the ministers, in number not less than seven, and one ruling elder from each congregation (unless the Synod decides to become a delegated body), within a certain district, including at least three Presbyteries.”

Duties—To review the records of the Presbyteries; to consider appeals from the Presbyteries; and to promote the benevolent and missionary work of the Church.

The Synod of Pennsylvania is composed of all the Presbyteries in the State of Pennsylvania, the Presbytery of West Virginia, and the foreign missionary Presbyteries of Western Africa and Zacatecas. It has 24 Presbyteries, 850 ministers, 950 Churches, 3800 elders, 800 deacons, 136,000 communicants, 155,000 Sabbath School scholars. It meets once a year, on the third Thursday of October. It meets as a representative body, on the basis of one minister and one ruling elder for every sixteen of the combined number of ministers and churches, or fraction thereof, in each Presbytery respectively. It met in 1882 at Harrisburg, in 1883 at Pittsburgh, and in 1884 at Philadelphia. The next meeting will be held at Bellefonte, Pa., October 15th, 1885. Rev. Samuel C. Logan, D.D., of Scranton, Pa., is Moderator; Rev. Elliott E. Swift, D.D., of Allegheny, Pa., is Stated Clerk; and Rev. James Roberts, D.D., of Coatesville, Pa., is Permanent Clerk.

IV. THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.—The General Assembly consists of an equal delegation of ministers and ruling elders from each of the Presbyteries, and is the highest judicatory of the Presbyterian Church. Every Presbytery sends at least one minister and one elder. If a Presbytery contains more than 24 ministers, it is entitled to an additional representation of one minister and one elder. Every additional 24 ministers entitles it to a like additional representation.

Duties—To pronounce final judgment upon all questions of doctrine and order, appeals and complaints; to answer overtures from Presbyteries and Synods; to interpret and declare the law of the Church; to appoint the several Boards of Benevolence, and supervise their work; and to consider all matters pertaining to the welfare of the Church.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America (commonly called "The Northern Assembly," to distinguish it from that of the Southern Presbyterian Church), has 24 Synods, 191 Presbyteries, 5400 ministers, 6000 churches, 625,000 communicants, 700,000 Sabbath School scholars. It meets once a year, on the third Thursday of May. The last two meetings were held at Saratoga Springs, New York. The next General Assembly will meet at Cincinnati, May 16th, 1885. The following are the Commissioners from the Presbytery of Philadelphia to this meeting: Ministers, Rev. Charles A. Dickey, D.D., Rev. Stephen W. Dana, D.D., Rev. William P. Breed, D.D.; Elders, William Still, George Griffiths, Hon. E. A. Rollins. The officers of the General Assembly are: Moderator, Rev. Geo. P. Hays, D.D., Denver, Col.; Stated Clerk, Rev. Wm. H. Roberts, D.D., Princeton, N. J.; Permanent Clerk, Rev. Wm. E. Moore, D.D., Columbus, Ohio.

V. THE PRESBYTERIAN ALLIANCE.—The Presbyterian Alliance (sometimes called the "Pan Presbyterian Council") is "The Alliance of the Reformed Churches throughout the World holding the Presbyterian System." It meets in General Council, ordinarily, once in three years. It consists of delegates, ministers and elders, from the Churches forming the Alliance, on the following basis: Each Church of 100 congregations, or less, sends two; from 100 to 200, four; and so on up to 1000; above 1000 the additional delegates are only two for 200; above 3000, two for 500; at 4000, or more, the total not to be above forty.

Duties—To consider questions of general interest to the Presbyterian community; to seek the welfare of Churches; to gather and disseminate information concerning the Kingdom of Christ throughout the world; to commend the Presbyterian system as Scriptural, and as combining simplicity, efficiency, and adaption to all times and conditions; to entertain all subjects directly connected with the work of Evangelization; to confer upon matters of common interest, and to further the ends for which the Church has been constituted by her Divine Lord and only King.

The General Councils of the Presbyterian Alliance have been held as follows: The First in Edinburgh, Scotland, in July, 1877; the Second in Philadelphia, in September, 1880; the Third in Belfast, Ireland, in June, 1884. The Fourth Council will be held in London, in 1888. The Presbyterian Alliance represents not less than 21,500 ministers, 100,000 elders, 25,000 Churches, seven million communicants, and two million Sabbath School members.

III. Summary of Presbyterian Doctrine.

The doctrines of the Presbyterian Church are contained in the "CONFESSION OF FAITH," and also in the Larger and Shorter Catechism. It is required of all ministers and elders that they receive and adopt the Confession of Faith, "as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Scriptures." Church members are only required that they give credible evidence of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. This faith includes penitence for sin and obedience to the commandments. The following is an outline of the doctrines set forth in the Confession of Faith:

I. ONE GOD—infinite, eternal, and unchangeable, in his being, wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness, and truth, subsisting in mysterious and eternal Trinity,—Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

II. ONE WORD—the Scriptures of the Old and New Testament, all given by inspiration of God, and our only infallible rule of faith and practice.

III. ONE CONDEMNATION—there being no difference, for all have sinned and come short of the glory of God, because the carnal mind is enmity against God.

IV. ONE SAVIOUR—the Lord Jesus Christ, God manifest in the flesh, the power unto salvation from sin and endless death, by atoning expiatory sacrifice through faith.

V. ONE ATONEMENT FOR SIN—made by Jesus Christ in his obedience unto death, sufficient for all, adapted to all, taking every legal obstacle out of the way of all, and on these grounds to be offered to all.

VI. ONE SPIRIT—God, the Holy Ghost, through whose sovereign agency in regeneration, the soul, dead in sin, is made alive in Christ, and through whose sovereign agency in sanctification, the soul is changed more and more into the divine image from glory to glory.

VII. ONE LIFE—the life hid with Christ in God, the life eternal; begun when a sinner believes, and assured thereafter by the effectual and sovereign grace of God; so that once given this eternal life, no believer shall ever perish.

VIII. ONE CHURCH—which is Christ's body, all the members of which, God hath from the beginning chosen to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the Truth.

IX. TWO SACRAMENTS—and only two, as ordained by Christ—Baptism and the Lord's Supper. Baptism being a sacrament wherein we have "sign and seal of ingrafting into Christ, of remission of sins by his blood, and regeneration by his Spirit;" and the Lord's Supper being a sacrament wherein "the Lord's death is showed forth," and the worthy receivers are, by faith, "made partakers of his body and blood, to their spiritual nourishment and growth in grace."

X. ONE JUDGMENT—when the dead, small and great, shall stand before God, and every man shall be judged according to his works; and the wicked shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal.

Annual Report to Presbytery.

April 6th, 1885.

The following is the Annual Report from the Southwestern Presbyterian Church to the Presbytery of Philadelphia, from April 1st, 1884, to April 1st, 1885 :

I. PRESENT OFFICERS.

Pastor, Rev. Irwin P. McCurdy. Elders, Samuel Fulton, Chas. Edward Miller, Charles Crudden, Hugh Rutherford, William McKnight, James Moore. Deacons, Hugh Copeland, Matthew McCauley, Charles Forbes, William Robson.

II. STATISTICS.

1. Members added during the year, 74. A. On Profession, 56; B. On Certificate, 18. 2. Present number, 366. 3. Members of Sabbath School (teachers and pupils), 302. 4. Contributions for Congregational purposes, $3350.00.

III. ASSOCIATIONS FOR CHURCH WORK, with facts of interest respecting their operations.

1. PUBLIC WORSHIP.—Preaching services have been held twice each Sabbath during the year, except in July and August when the evening service was omitted. There has been a steady, healthy increase in the attendance, and much interest manifested. A full house is present at every service, and the people gladly hear the Word as it is preached, and join heartily in the prayer and praise of the Sanctuary.

2. THE SABBATH SCHOOL.—The attendance at the Sabbath School also has increased. The Superintendents, the officers, and the teachers, are thoroughly interested, and good work is done in this most important department of the Church. More than half of the members of the School attend the preaching services, and a large number regularly attend all the services of the Church. 38 from the Sabbath School have been received into the Church on profession. A Children's Service is held in the Church on the first Sabbath evening of each month.

3. WEDNESDAY EVENING LECTURE.—This service has had a remarkably good attendance during the last few months. The Pastor has been lecturing on the International Sabbath School Lessons, which has been found to be attractive to all, especially the young people.

4. CONGREGATIONAL PRAYER MEETING (Friday evening).—This service was established a few weeks ago. It is conducted by the lay members of the Church, and has a good attendance.

5. THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETING.—This service was established last January, and is held on Sabbath evening, three-quarters of an hour before the preaching service. It is a meeting for prayer and praise, and is led by the young men of the Church. There is an excellent attendance every evening, and the success of this meeting has been a surprise to all.

6. OTHER PRAYER MEETINGS.—The Young Men's and the Young Ladies' Prayer Meetings have recently been established. The first of these, which is for young men only, meets on Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock; and the other, which is for ladies only, meets on Sabbath afternoon at 4 o'clock. Twelve young ladies have united together to take their turn in leading the meeting. Both these meetings give evidence of success.

7. MISSION BANDS.—Two mission bands have been organized during the year:—The Irwin P. McCurdy Foreign Mission Band last September, and the Mizpah Young Ladies' Mission Band last November. The first of these bands has a membership of over fifty young ladies and gentlemen; the other has a membership of about twenty young ladies. Two other mission bands, for the younger people of the Church, had been organized previously. All these bands have monthly meetings, and are prosperous.

8. THE WHITE RIBBON ARMY, SOUTHWESTERN DIVISION. — This temperance movement was organized on the 8th of last February, and has already a membership of some 200 persons. It has entered upon a defensive warfare against intemperance and is likely to do much good.

9. THE LADIES' AID SOCIETY. — This society was organized a few weeks ago, and it is securing a good membership.

IV. MISSIONS (if any), with state of their condition and prospect.
(We have no Missions.).

V. MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.—Revivals. Special efforts of any kind. Facts indicating prosperity, or the reverse. Wants which should be brought to the notice of Presbytery, etc.

1. REVIVALS.—There have been none of the so-called revivals during the year. However, the Church has been remarkably blessed with a quiet work of grace, without any excitement, during the past few months, especially manifested during the past month.

2. SPECIAL EFFORTS.—No special efforts have been made outside of the regular services, except special preaching services were held every evening for a week preceding the March communion, when the Pastor had the valuable assistance of five successful Pastors of this Presbytery and the Chaplain of the U. S. Naval Asylum.

3. PROSPERITY.—The following facts will indicate our prosperity: (1.) Peace and harmony prevail among us, which we regard as one of the brightest harbingers of good, as one of the surest tokens that the Holy Spirit is with and in our Church. (2.) A large increase in the membership, especially on profession; during the past nine months 74 new members have been received, 56 being on profession; 36 on profession were received at the March communion. (Only thirty-one of all the Churches connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, which is the largest Presbyterian body in the world, received more than 56 persons on profession during the last ecclesiastical year.) (3.) Nearly all our members are thoroughly interested in our Church, and many are earnestly working and praying for the Church's prosperity. (4.) Our Church has a large number of excellent young people, who are anxious to work for the Master, and the hope of any Church is in its young people. (5.) All the services are well attended. (6.) Contributions to all the Boards of the Church have been made. (7.) At the end of our Church year, the Treasurer's account had a balance on the right side, after a large payment had just been made to liquidate the debt against the Parsonage. (8.) We have the sympathy and prayers of our late beloved Pastor, the Rev. John McLeod.
